

Yoruba Language School,

Managed by Yoruba Foundation Calgary

Introduction

- Yoruba is one of the three major languages in Nigeria.
- The language is spoken not only in Nigeria but in most of the West African Countries – and even in the Caribbean and South American nations.
- The Yoruba Language School (YLS) Calgary was established in 2004 with the help of one of our community members who is now a grandmother.

Objective of the Language School

- Values and cultural preservation through teaching and understanding of the language.
- Exposure to language and culture enthusiasts across the globe – we have people of western origin going to Nigerian universities to learn about the language and the culture.
- Address cultural and intercultural dynamics.

Meeting & Location

- The School started at the Nigeria Canadian Association of Calgary House in the NE
- Started by meeting twice a month for a total of 6 hours (3 hours/class).
- Later moved to the Genesis Centre in the NE
- Meeting rescheduled to 2nd & 4th Saturdays of the month
 - Class ran between 11:00am – 2.00pm
 - Lunch served to students from 12 – 12:30
- Currently, the school is fully online
 - Genesis Centre used for in-person cultural activities such as dancing, drumming, craft making etc.
 - Guest speakers invited for mentorship and coaching on public speaking

Curriculum and Teaching Resources

- Current curriculum aligns mostly with that for Grades 1 – 6 in Nigeria.
- Modifications made to ensure suitability for the Canadian environment
- Books ordered from US & Nigerian publishers – some with bilingual writings.
- Each student has at least three books to practice
- Grading basis – Attendance; Class participation; Homework; and End of Session Review

YLS Challenges

- Success stories are boring without challenges – ours is no exception!
- We live in a fast-paced world, so getting people to spare their time is tough!
- Students already had some other extra-curricula commitments – attendance impacted
 - Somewhat resolved by moving the class to online – We have students from across the globe
 - Our IT volunteers did great by getting a not-for-profit/educational right for Google Meet.
- Attention during online classes – How do you judge if the students are actively listening?
 - Introduction of fun activities like kahoot!, and other learning engagement tools

Success

- We have gone beyond curriculum instructions to introduction of several activities that help facilitate learning and motivate students' interests
- Field trip is now part of our academic calendar plan – twice a year
- African Store – introduction to various Yoruba/African food items and processes of preparing them
- Telus Spark – relationship between Western and African Science
- Safety Training Course – Stay Alone Course for children (32 Students benefited so far)
- Participation and representation of Yoruba Culture during Nigerian/African & other Social cultural events – showcased class learnings, values, and traditional dances.

Looking Ahead

- Our hope is to continue to update the curriculum and expand the classes.
- Update the learning tools for ease of understanding of students
- Organize formal trainings for teachers and volunteers to further enhance their teaching skills.
- Expand the learning materials library
- Update cultural artefacts and resources
- Organize field trips to Yoruba historical sites and monuments
